

Forget-me-not...

When Sil said goodbye to the playgroup he treated all the children and teachers on mini pots with forget me not flowers! And Lise treated on bags with forget me not seeds, because her birthday is mid-winter and there were no flowers for sale. The reactions were so nice. Especially the children, because now they had their own flowers.

The summer holidays are in a few weeks and maybe your child has to say goodbye to children and teachers and masters this end of the school year. Therefore a say goodbye DIY .

Needed: transparent bags with zip tie, colored cardboard, piece of string, alphabet stamps and stamps with forget-me-not-seeds.

Put the seeds in the bag, seal and make any hole in the top. Make a cardboard label and stamp with the text: Forget - me – not. Write on the behind of the label how to plant the seeds!

Nice to your classmates to wish them a good summer: put sunflower seeds in a bag, make a yellow carton label and stamp text 'Happy Summer'.
